ENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

Thompsonville, Connecticut

As we traveled along the corridor of Time, we constantly found ourselves passing through doors. The many doors through which we have passed these last four years have given us a vast experience that will aid us in our future undertakings.

By turning the pages of this book we can see that our passing through these various doors have led us from childhood to young adults in our search for knowledge. The process of our great search to find what is beyond the doors to education has not been accomplished by merely knocking and thereby gaining admission. Many times we approached a door with uncertainty and apprehension, but, eventually, we were able to find the key to unlock the door. The master key needed to open the portals of learning is truth, which we discovered by unfaltering purpose and desire for learning. As each door was unlocked with the key of truth, we found, as we passed over the threshold, a member of our faculty, experienced and ready to help us with his unswerving devotion to our quest. Sometimes we stumbled by a door or groped through a dark passageway, but there was always a teacher ready to give guidance and hope.

Now we have closed the last of these memorable doors of Enfield High and stand prepared on the threshold of the future. May we always endeavor, as we approach the new portals of life, steadfastly and resolutely to continue to use the unfailing key of truth.

DONALD J. FLEBOTTE
Assistant Principal

Mr. Donald J. Flebotte has served our school in many ways. As a teacher, administrator, and advisor, he, with his youthful guidance, enthusiasm, and consideration has led us to the doors of opportunity.

To this rising young leader we gratefully dedicate this yearbook.

ENFIELD BOARD OF EDUCATION

The doors to opportunities for knowledge for all are flung open and kept open by these gentlemen in whom are delegated the power and the responsibility of promulgating public education policies. Too often we take for granted the buildings, the books and supplies, the educational personnel, the transportation facilities, and the privilege of attending school, without realizing the tremendous task of administration performed by these civic-minded and self-sacrificing people. Theirs is the never-ending task of solving educational problems, improving policies, and making available the best for the most. We who have reaped the fruits of their efforts are not unmindful of their keen interest in our welfare and thus we pause to extend our grateful thanks to them who have done so much for so many.

ADMINISTRATION

Scheduling, guiding, counseling students, and in general executing the myriad details of operating a platoon-system educational plant is the task of these leaders. The fact that they have accommodated more than a thousand students in a building equipped to handle fewer than six hundred is sufficient to warrant a "Well done" commendation.

DOORS

Like a young child who to his mother's door
Runs eager for the welcoming embrace,
And finds the door shut, and with troubled face
Calls and through sobbing calls, and o'er and o'er
Calling, storms at the panel — so before
A door that will not open, sick and numb,
I listen for a word that will not come,
And know, at last, I may not enter more.

Silence! And through the silence and the dark
By that closed door, the distant sob of tears
Beats on my spirit, as on fairy shores
The spectral sea; and through the sobbing, hark!
Down the fair-chambered corridor of years,
The quiet shutting, one by one, of doors.

— Hermann Hagedorn

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Cervantes once said, "When one door is shut; another opens." This expression is most appropriate as we graduate from Enfield High School for we have just closed a crucial door in our education and a new and challenging one is about to be opened.

In the four years that we have spent in Enfield High School we have been assisted in the opening of the massive gateways of learning. The books were the locks to which our teachers have given us the master keys. Their guidance and patience have prepared us up to this moment of commencement.

Now we are about to enter the portals of the future, each toward his own goal. Some of us will be going on to higher schools of education, some to technical schools, some into industry and business, and some into the governmental services.

Wherever we shall go, and whatever we shall do, we shall always be grateful for the opportunities we have had at Enfield.

CLASS HISTORY

Here we are tonight — this our graduation — closing forever the doors to our high school career. But the door to the future stands wide open for all of us.

1957-1958 — First Door

We opened our first high school door when we timidly entered the portals of Enfield High School four years ago as frightened Freshmen. We were somewhat reassured when we discovered that practically every member of our class felt the same way — terrified. Here we met many new friends from the town's three grammar schools, Hazardville Memorial, A. D. Higgins, and Saint Joseph's.

This year we experienced a completely different time schedule from anything we had known previously. Now, we were going to school until what seemed like midnight, but what was in reality, five o'clock. We were quick to see the advantages of this time schedule, however. We soon realized, that unlike the upperclassmen, we could sleep until nine or ten o'clock in the morning. The majority of us soon learned to take full advantage of this fact. Who was it that said Freshmen were naive?

The first task that we performed, after we had become acquainted with one another, was to elect our officers to guide us through the year. They were Al Nosal, president; Steve Gregorski, vice-president; Jean Mancuso, secretary; Richard Strom, treasurer; and Roberta FitzGibbon, class historian. John Devine and Kathy Legienza were elected as our two Student Council representatives.

We were formally welcomed to Enfield High by the senior class at the annual Senior-Freshmen Reception, at which we all enjoyed fine entertainment and dancing.

Athletic ability was demonstrated by our freshmen boys in such sports as football, basketball, and baseball. Familiar names on the roster included Al Nosal, Bill Delaney, Roy Raymond, Bob Landry, Tom Murphy, Steve Gregorski, Jim Lyko, Ronnie Bennett, John Devine, Jay Zirolli, John Messemer, among others.

Honors were brought to our class in the form of prizes at the end of the year by Carol McFall for excellence in in Algebra I, Leslie Tyler for her fine work in English composition, and Michele Locario for her superior ability in Latin I.

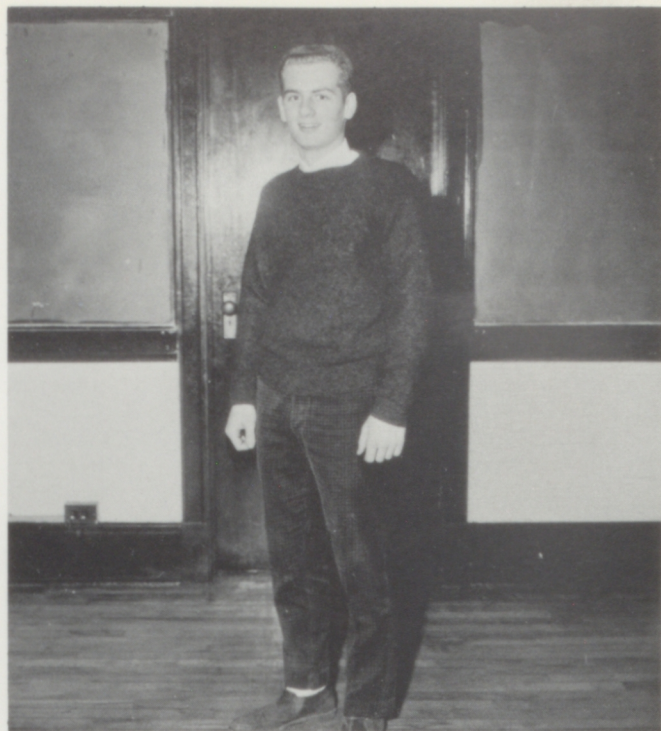

1958-1959 — Second Door

Again the doors of Enfield High opened and we entered less reluctantly than we had in the previous year. For the second time in two years our routine was badly jolted. Now, instead of coming home in the dark, we got up and went to school in the dark. Our school day was from eight o'clock in the morning to twelve-thirty in the afternoon. Because of the early hours, we were too groggy to see the advantages at first, but there were several. Now, we had our afternoons free to do as we liked.

We began the year by electing our class leaders who were Richard Matulewicz, president; Jay Zirolli, vice-president; Bonnie Linehan, secretary; Ronnie Bennett, treasurer. We also chose John Devine, Kathy Legienza, Michele Locario, and Ronnie Bennett to represent us in the Student Council.

Our class was represented on the stage of Enfield High for the first time by Michele Locario and Ronnie Bennett. They played roles in the annual class play, "Arsenic and Old Lace."

Our sophomore boys continued to display their prowess in athletics while being cheered on by Leslie Tyler, Judy Collins, June Arnold, and Barbara Einfurer, the junior varsity cheerleaders.

Boy Most Likely to Succeed
Class Personality

At the close of our sophomore year Leslie Tyler again achieved honor for our class by winning the Latin II award.

1959-1960 — Third Door

The doors of Enfield High School swung open again to let us enter for the third consecutive year. We now entered bravely, assured of our social status as Juniors and upperclassmen. This year we elected for our class officers Al Nosal, president; Richard Matulewicz, vice-president; John Devine, secretary; and James Zych, treasurer. For our six Student Council representatives we selected Ronnie Bennett, John Devine, Leslie Tyler, Michele Locario, Richard Matulewicz, and Marilyn Sperazza.

The varsity football squad included among its ranks Bill Delaney, Al Nosal, Kenny Chaine, Jim Lyko, Ronnie Bennett, Ed McCusker, Bill Grigaitis, Tom Murphy, and Fred Leander. Varsity cheerleaders also had a fair sprinkling of members of the junior class. They were Leslie Tyler, June Arnold, and Barbara Einfurer. The junior varsity teams were spurred on towards victory by Beverly Blowen, Betty Ann Wells, Judy Collins, and Margot Peterson, the Junior members of the junior varsity cheerleading squad.

Junior players on the boys' varsity basketball team were Bill Delaney, Al Nosal, Ed McCusker, Roy Raymond, and Joe Pych. Also the girls in our class participated in the girls' basketball team. Among them were Kathy Legienza, Marion Lange, Bonnie Linehan, Claire Alaimo, Joan Kurley, Geraldine Bedner, and Roberta FitzGibbon.

In this year the Karl D. Lee Chapter of the National Honor Society was formed. Eight Juniors, because of their high scholastic ability, leadership, character, and service, were among the first members of this chapter. They were Michele Locario, Carol Pacholski, Leslie Tyler, Sally Spatz, Caroline Parlin, William Zersona, Stephen Krilyno, and Richard Matulewicz.

Stanley Surriner, an outstanding member of Troop

108, represented our class at the Boy Scout Jamboree in Denver, Colorado.

Under the general chairmanship of Al Nosal, our junior class waved a magic wand and transformed the auditorium into a Japanese Springtime, the theme of our Junior Prom. The many enthusiastic couples were greeted as they entered by Leslie Tyler and Al Nosal, who served as Host and Hostess. At the Farewell Prom John Reese and Diane Molyn represented our class as Host and Hostess as they welcomed the 1960 graduates.

In April, Edward Waskiel, Leslie Tyler, David Mongon, and Barbara Einfurer were the junior class delegates to the Model Congress at American International College.

This year the junior class delegates chosen to represent Enfield High at Laurel Girls' State and Nutmeg Boys' State were Joan Kurley, Roberta FitzGibbon, William Zeronas, and Stephen Krilyno.

The junior class showed its true colors in the number of honors its members received at the graduation exercises. In the various areas of learning, prizes were won by Leslie Tyler, Stenography I; Carol Pacholski, Typing; Mary Ann Woziwoda, Bookkeeping; Edward Waskiel, History; and Roberta FitzGibbon, Leadership.

1960-1961 — Fourth Door

The doors swung open for the last time for us as we entered our final year at Enfield High School. Again we were confronted with a new and different schedule in which the Seniors and Juniors attended in the morning, and Sophomores and Freshmen, in the afternoon. This arrangement was necessary because of the overcrowded conditions. The greatest tragedy of this schedule was the loss of the traditional Homeroom 26.

We were very happy to accept the Senior role of rulers of the underclassmen, but we were saddened by the thought that this was to be our final year at Enfield.

This year many new students enrolled as members of our class. Among these new additions were Arleen Foy, Linda Lane, Cynthia Jones, Bill Richards, and Al Robson.

To help guide us through this our last and most memorable year at Enfield High we elected John Devine as our president; Al Nosal, vice-president; Roberta FitzGibbon, secretary; and Karen Collins, treasurer. Our eight Student Council representatives were Michele Locario, Betty Ann Wells, Bernard Russotto, Caroline Cogtella, Roberta FitzGibbon, Steve Lawrence, Carol McFall, and William Zeronas.

Our first fund raising attempt to defray the cost of our classbook took the form of a cupcake sale undertaken by the senior girls under the direction of Roberta FitzGibbon and Leslie Tyler. This venture proved a huge success because of the gargantuan appetites of the Enfield High students.

Our polished athletes of the senior class continued to prove their ability on the football field and the basketball court. The varsity football squad under the leadership of co-captains Bill Delaney and Al Nosal enjoyed a thrilling year despite the season's overall record. The varsity squad included the following members: Ed McCusker, Jim Lyko, Kenny Chaine, Jack Messemer, Joe Pych, Craig DuPrey, and Tom Murphy.

This year's varsity basketball team also helped contribute to the fame of the title, Enfield Raiders. With Ed McCusker as captain and senior members Al Nosal, Joe Pych, and Roy Raymond, the team had an unforgettable year.

Both the varsity football and basketball teams were cheered on by the efforts of the varsity cheerleaders. The senior members of this spirited group were Leslie Tyler and June Arnold, co-captains; Betty Ann Wells, Beverly Blown, Judy Collins, and Mary Akey.

The girls' basketball team also tasted the sweet flavor of victory this year. Kathy Legienza and Geraldine Bedner were the co-captains; other senior members of the team were Joan Kurley, Bonnie Linehan, Phyllis Snyder, and Claire Alaimo.

This year's theatrical venture, "A Bell for Adano" under the direction of Mr. Franklin Gross, proved a rewarding effort. It was the first time a serious play had ever been presented at Enfield and it was a precedent-shattering event. The senior members of the cast were Dell Matter, June Arnold, Barry McNelly, Neil Molloy, and Ed Waskiel.

Our second and third efforts to defray the cost of our classbook were two record hops sponsored by the class under the general direction of John Devine, our president. With Brad Davis as disc jockey, both ventures were successful.

The zenith of our social functions for the year was our gala Senior Prom, "Candy Cane Ball." Under the general chairmanship of class president, John Devine, the Seniors worked hard and long to make it a most enjoyable evening. The guests were greeted in this fantasy land of candy canes by John Manning and Bonnie Linehan and Ted Chickosky and Marion' Lange, co-hosts and co-hostesses.

Maureen Mullen was the recipient of the "Home-maker of the Year" Award; and the Daughters of the American Revolution Award for Good Citizenship was bestowed upon Carol Pacholski.

These are the events that we remember vividly from our sojourn through Enfield. Now, as we receive our diplomas we are closing forever the door of our high school days, and the whole future is ours by just opening another door. Eagerly we approach this door to the future with assurance that we are well equipped to undertake any task for which we have been trained.

JUNIOR PROM

Friday, April 22, 1960, was the date of our Junior Prom. It was a hectic afternoon of preparation and anticipation. We Juniors were busily decorating the auditorium incorporating the talents and ingenuity of our classmates. Frantically, we hurried about transforming our grim gym into an oriental garden in tune with our theme, "Japanese Springtime." When the finishing touches were finally made, we all fled out the doors to hurry home to dress for the occasion.

JUNIORS
PROMENADE

Upon our return we found many of our classmates enjoying the atmosphere we had created while dancing to the music of Eddie Abrahamson's Orchestra. Later in the evening the Grand March, led by Host and Hostess Al Nosal and Leslie Tyler, was conducted. As the evening waned we paused at intervals to refresh ourselves with punch and fortune cookies served by underclasmen in Japanese costume. When the time came to leave, we reluctantly departed through the doors, which closed behind us the excitement of our Junior Prom.

SENIOR PROM

On the frosty evening of December 16, 1960, we crossed the threshold from the reality of the mundane sphere into a fantasy land of candy cane splendor. Greeted by Hosts and Hostesses John Manning and Bonnie Linehan, and Ted Chickosky and Marion Lange, we began the night of the Senior Prom. As we entered the dance floor through an archway of candy canes, we found ourselves surrounded by gay holiday reds and greens. We danced lightheartedly to the music of Harold August's Orchestra until both hands of the clock pointed to twelve. We then closed another door on a memorable occasion of our high school days.

GRAND MARCH

FAREWELL PROM

"A June Night to Remember" was our theme for the Farewell Prom, and it truly was a momentous affair for the sad-hearted Seniors. They were approaching the final door of their high school days and closing it forever. We danced among them to the music of Eddie Abrahamson's Orchestra. Representing our class as Host and Hostess were John Reese and Diane Molyn. They were there to greet the dancers as they strolled through the flowered trellises. Daniel Brown and Marion Goodsell were crowned King and Queen. It was a gay, yet nostalgic evening, one which we shall long remember.

GLEE CLUB

Passing through the portals of the music department of our school, we find the Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Perrone, rehearsing for one of their many programs. This year the club has been organized in the form of two groups; one composed of the Freshmen and Sophomores; the other, Juniors and Seniors. With only a few rehearsals, these two groups successfully presented a Christmas Concert on December 22, 1960, in which they sang such carols as "Deck the Hall," "Carol of the Bells," "Joy to the World," and "Silent Night." They have also participated in the Commencement exercises in which their songs proved their efforts worthwhile.

The Glee Club has brought music into the halls of Enfield and has lent school spirit to the students and faculty. Mr. Perrone has swung the door wide open this year to the students who desired an extra-curriculum that is both satisfactory and enjoyable.

SENIOR RECORD HOP

"Way-out At E.H.S." was the name of the senior class record hop which was held on February 11 in the high school auditorium. The seniors, after the nomination of John Devine as chairman, went into full swing preparing for their hop. Brad Davis, local disk jockey, brought along many outstanding guests to entertain the students. This, the seniors' first attempt to raise money, was a huge success. The proceeds of the dance are used to defray the senior class expenses.

The crowd roared loudly — a result of the newly organized Pep Club. This club was organized under the direction of Coach Angelica and the cheerleaders, and its members were all interested students of all four classes. It met each Tuesday evening for an animated session of learning and practicing new cheers. However, their main function was to attend the games and boost the teams. They were that spirited, vociferous little band seated directly behind the cheerleaders at every game.

LATIN CLUB

Fun? — Yes, this club is fun. The members belonging to it always enjoy themselves. Throughout the year they play games in Latin, do pantomimes on Roman subjects, and at times give reports on their research. Near the end of the year they indulge in a Roman banquet, for which occasion they dress in realistic Roman costume, consume Roman-type food (figs, olives, and pizzas), and enjoy some of the old Roman entertainment (gladitorial combats and Roman music). But, of course, no one was thrown to the lions!!!

FRENCH CLUB

The members of French Club enjoyed exploring French beyond the scope of formal classwork. Through music, films, games, and first hand accounts, the group increased their knowledge of French culture and gained a closer view of actual French life. Under the direction of Miss E. Elizabeth Best, founder of the organization, and Miss Marcelle Frechette, advisor, the students learned the feelings expressed in the French National Anthem and other songs.

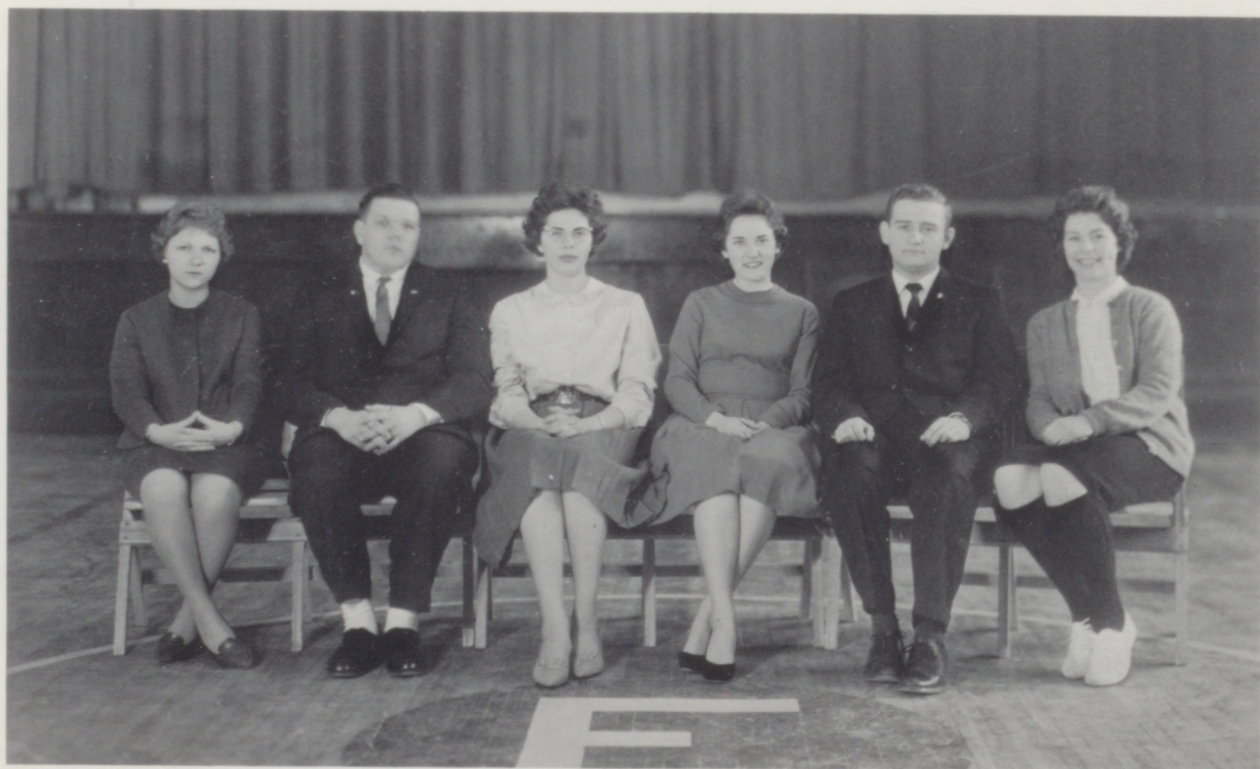

The Eddy girls, Helen and Frances, practice phonetics under the guidance of Miss Best.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT

Enfield-Somers, the local chapter of the Junior Achievement organization, was located in the cafeteria building of the Bigelow-Sanford Co. The Enfield High School students, under the guidance of advisors, organized little businesses. The various steps of organization, management, production, and merchandising were traced. The development and the success of the business was then determined by the acumen of embryo tycoons.

MODEL CONGRESS

Delegates from various schools participate in the Model Congress held annually at the American International College. The delegates themselves develop individual bills or amendments and present them to the houses. Edward Waskiel introduced a bill favoring aid to Africa, Leslie Tyler presented a bill concerning aeronautical regulations, and David Mongon spoke for the unification of primaries.

Experience was gained in formal speaking, debating, and organization of material. Delegates, as well as observers, gained a better understanding and appreciation of the functions of our government. When the doors of our high school career close forever and the portals of the future stand wide open before us, we shall appreciate the role we must play in the democracy of our country.

Meeting delegates from the many other schools provided the joy of exchanging ideas. We compared the various aspects of our schools, and we came home feeling that our own Enfield High compared favorably with others. The highlight of the social phase was a banquet at the Crossroads at which event scholarship awards were bestowed upon the outstanding delegates.

Who's got the ball?

Football has long been a favored sport of the students of our school not only by the team, for its rugged action, but also by its loyal fans, for its thrilling show. Our team had a fair season this year by tying one, winning two, and losing two under the leadership of Senior co-captains Bill Delaney and Al Nosal.

We opened the season with a slashing victory over Classical. In our second game Enfield also won by a decisive margin. Doug Warner, a Junior, led Enfield to its strongest opening half by carrying the ball into the end zone four consecutive times with the aid of hard team blocking. Our defense slammed shut the door to Minnechaug by allowing them one lone touchdown in the second quarter. Late in the game Bob Licitra bulled over for Enfield's fifth and final score.

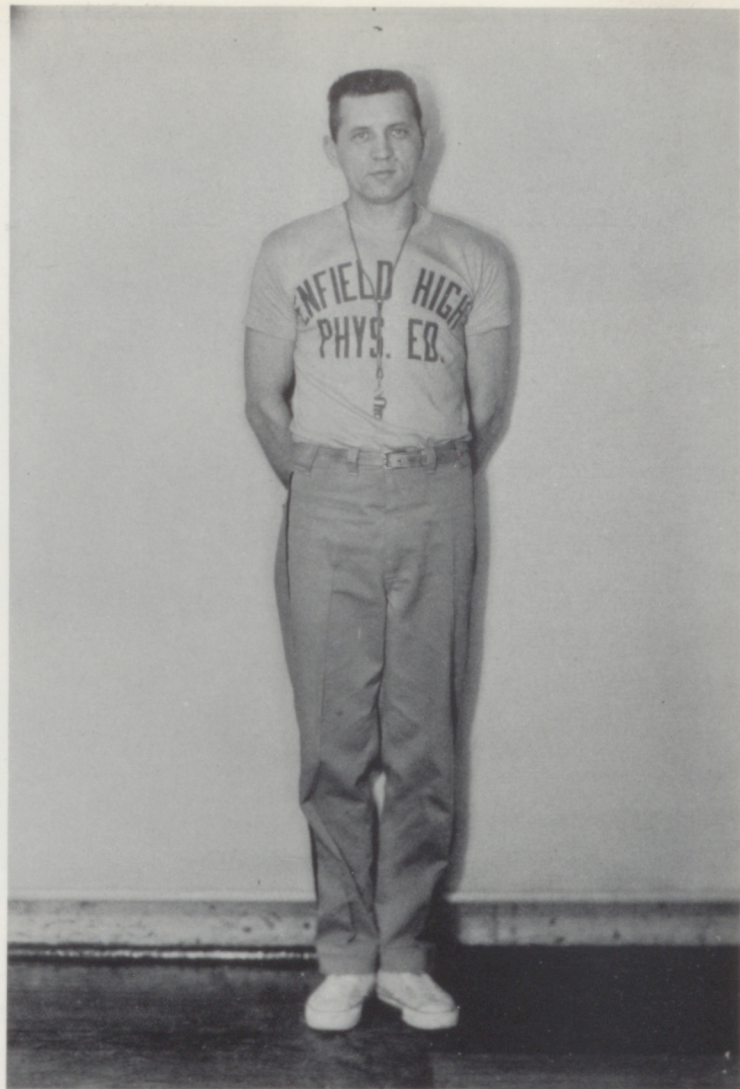

The Green Raiders scored early in the first period upon recovering one of Trade's seven fumbles. Al Nosal and Doug Warner took turns moving the ball to the five yard line from which point Bill Delaney carried it over for their first touchdown. Enfield's defense, however, stopped them from making the two-point conversion. Trade again scored in the third period, but their higher score of 14-6 drove John Messmer on to plunge 10 yards into the end zone with five minutes remaining to give Enfield a 14-14 tie with Trade.

Our last two games were both disconcerting. In the Palmer game we met defeat, but only after a titantic struggle. Palmer made the first score quickly which was neutralized by an Enfield touchdown and a 2 point conversion. Later Palmer's second touchdown gave them the victory.

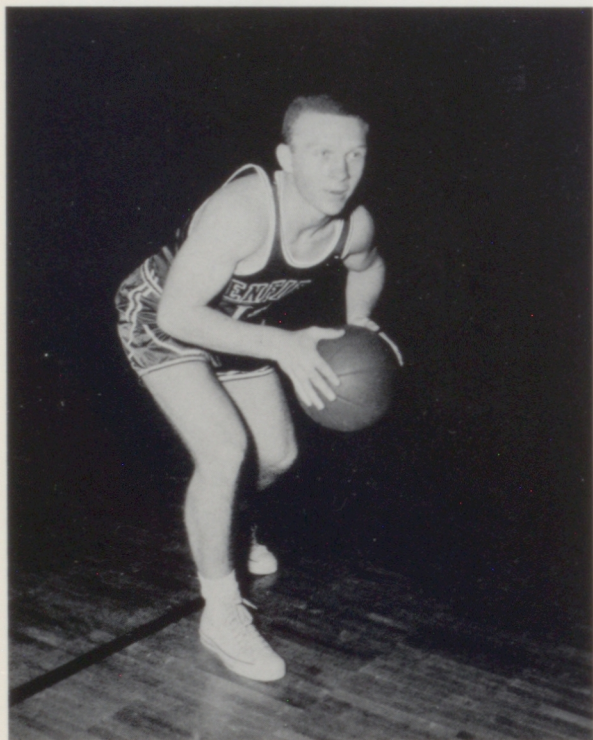

Longmeadow closed the Enfield season with an overwhelming victory. The door to a successful season has been closed, but in the words of an erstwhile coach of a famous team the boys were heard to mutter, "Wait until next year."

BASKETBALL

Basketball at Enfield became another victim of the split session schedule this year. To add to the woes of the season, Coach Angelica had to withdraw from his coaching duties because of a prolonged illness. Coach Sugalski was moved up from the Jayvee position to fill the gap. The unfortunate combination of a lack of adequate facilities for practice, and only Junior and Senior boys to draw from, weakened what otherwise might have been a very strong team, a very definite championship contender. The boys were forced to practice wherever and whenever they could find a gym available as the afternoon gym classes had priority on the floor. In the words of Coach Angelica, who, by the way, never has alibied, nor does so at this time, "We spent more time practicing getting on and off the bus than we did on the gym floor." This observation sums up what to all outward appearances was a disastrous season. Nonetheless, in spite of the overwhelming obstacles, the team gave a good account of itself.

The Raiders started well in the first game with East Longmeadow. Throughout the game we were in control leading by 6, at half-time; and by 18, at the end for a victory. In the final quarter, the opening five were rested while the rest of the team was given their opportunity.

AL NOSAL

In our tenth game we broke an eight game losing streak by nosing out Agawam by 2 points. The first half showed Enfield with an 8 point margin. But in the second half our opponents slowly trimmed the lead until both teams matched each other basket for basket. With seconds remaining Terry Smith broke the deadlock with a 2 pointer and that gave us a win.

Later in the season Enfield met with East Longmeadow again and showed them that they could still beat them with a sizable 26 point margin. In the last game Enfield lost a heartbreaker. The nip and tuck battle ended with us 1 point down and no time left.

Not to give the crowd any less than another thrilling battle the Raiders ended this year's play by shutting the door to the Faculty All-Stars by 2 points. The faculty players, before the start of the game, of course, had boasted something about showing the Raiders how games are won. It was an ironic twist of fate that the students became the teachers.

Coming in for the basket.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

Practicing under the same poor conditions that the varsity squad struggled with, the Junior Varsity team made an exceptionally good showing. Under the coaching of Mr. Ralph Cerrato the team had a fine record of 11 wins and only 1 loss.

This year's Jayvee team consisted of Freshmen and Sophomores only. They played as a highly efficient, well-balanced team winning most of their games by 15-20 point margins. Their record book showed that no individual dominated the team as every member scored as many points as his team mate.

Coach Cerrato said that if this team would stay together the prospects for a championship varsity squad in the next few years are good. This Jayvee team has been one of the best that Enfield has ever seen.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

THE SEASON'S RECORD

With feelings of happy expectation we began the 1960-1961 season of the girls' basketball team. Under the guidance of Coach Ida Perdrizet and the leadership of co-captains Kathy Legienza and Geraldine Bedner, the girls anticipated many victories. The Senior members of the team were Joan Kurley, Bonnie Linehan, and Phyllis Snyder.

Our first disappointment came when we realized that practically all of our first string had been graduated the previous year, but with Miss Perdrizet's constant encouragement we began to build a team. Then we experienced another drawback. We could not find a suitable place to practice. We could not use the school gym because during the afternoons, due to the split sessions, gym classes were held in it. Finally after much anguish on the part of the team, we found a place to practice — Enfield Street School. So, the long gruelling process of shaping a group of six girls into the highly-trained and efficient unit known as a basketball team began.

We opened the season with a bang. In our first game we tasted the sweet flavor of victory when we defeated Ware 30 to 21. The girls played with perfect coordination.

Our second game of the season led to a great disappointment when we were defeated by Ludlow, by a score of 45-29. In spite of the disillusionment, we derived satisfaction from the fact that we did our best.

When we went to Palmer, our team experienced another loss, despite our vain efforts. We did our best, but somehow Palmer seemed to be blessed with players who had uncanny eyes for the basket.

When our game came about with Ware, over whom we had previously won, each girl went on that floor with confidence. But again, in spite of our play, "Lady Luck" choose to frown upon us again, as we came out with the short end of the score. To raise our spirits, after this game we enjoyed telling jokes and singing over soda and chips.

Our game with South Hadley produced play in which the score was close throughout. At the end of the last quarter, our opponents led by one basket. Then, a second before the buzzer rang, we scored that needed basket to tie the game!

In the overtime period, South Hadley managed to outscore us by a margin of three points. This was our most heart-breaking loss of the season.

Our next two games with Palmer and Monson followed this same appalling pattern.

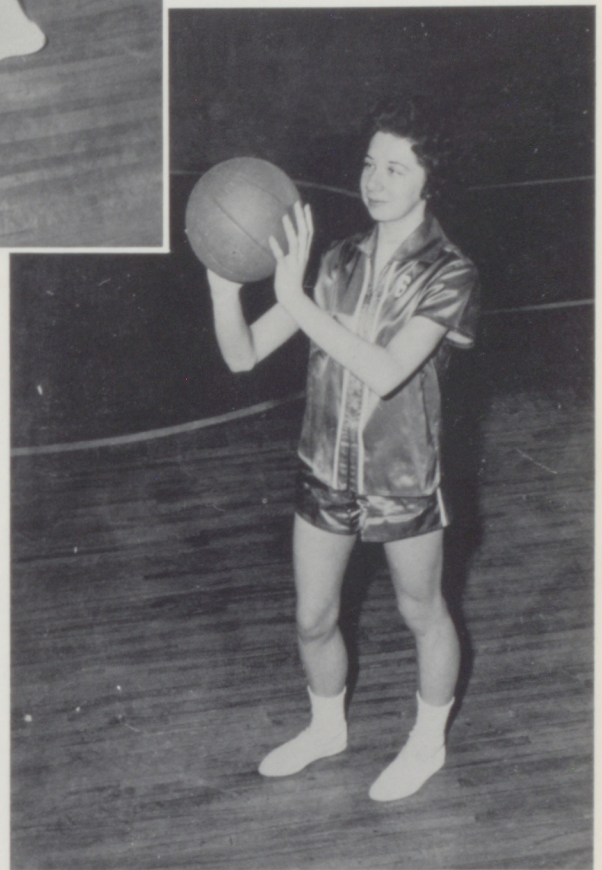

Although this year's record is not flattering, it does not by far tell the whole story of our team. Records never really give all that goes on behind them. True, we were all disappointed by our losses, but the thrill we had experienced just from participating in this exhilarating sport far out weighed our disappointments. We learned that winning, though important, is not the most important thing. We discovered that being a good sport means much more than victory.

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders are those frantic, screaming, yet faithful supporters of the Green Raiders. Led by Leslie Tyler and June Arnold, co-captains of the varsity squad, they displayed energy that seemed inexhaustible. Senior members included Betty Ann Wells, Beverly Blowen, Judy Collins, and Mary Akey. These, along with the Junior members, worked enthusiastically making shakers, drawing posters, and taking the initiative in pep rallies.

The double sessions which divided the Seniors and Juniors from the Sophomores and Freshmen made it difficult to unite the student body in support of the Raiders. However, with the help of the afternoon faculty, pep assemblies were organized which brought the spirit to the afternoon students.

Never failing loyalty is the motto of Enfield High's cheerleaders. This was shown at the Longmeadow game. When the battle was lost, they did not succumb to depression; rather they left the battleground with heads high, shouting through their tears, "We're from Enfield and no one could be prouder, and if you can't hear us, we'll yell a little louder." The strength that they gave to the morale of the team with those few words will never be forgotten. That is their purpose, and it was fulfilled.

MAJORETTES

A new attraction has been added to our school this year. It is the group of majorettes organized by Linda Lane, head twirler, who has been in Enfield only for her Senior year, having transferred from Bulkeley High School. With the advice of Miss Perdrizet, Linda had worked diligently with the others to prepare a routine for our Student-Faculty game, the last game of the season. The girls designed and made their own uniforms. In only a short time after they had organized, Enfield High School had a full-fledged majorette team whose efforts we can well appreciate. Senior majorettes are Linda Lane and Pat Herrmann. The nucleus of this year's group will undoubtedly form the framework of the future majorettes of Enfield.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders are composed of Freshmen and Sophomores. Co-Captains Sheila Gourlie and Liz Heath convened the girls at morning practices before school. It was the first year of cheering for all the Jayvee cheerleaders and they really showed willingness and ambition. When the Jayvees were playing the preliminary games, the J.V. Cheerleaders took over the task of exhorting the fans to support the home club. If the record of the Junior Varsity team is any indication, the Jayvee Cheerleaders must have done an outstanding job. The good showing these cheerleaders have made augers well for the future of Enfield athletic teams.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical education as an educational program consists of a variety of activities that contribute toward the development of the physical, mental, social, and emotional aspect of the student's life. Gymnastics, which includes the use of apparatus such as the parallel bars, vaulting buck, tumbling mats, trampoline and other paraphernalia, provide the opportunity to develop physical fitness, coordination, balance and self-confidence through the performance of various skills and stunts. Team games, individual sports, marching and rhythmic enable the student to gain a sense of cooperation, democratic participation, keen competition, social grace and poise. These are only a few of the goals achieved by the student who must be prepared to meet the challenges of a highly competitive and complex society.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS FAIR

During the week of March 6, 1961, the combined Industrial Departments of metal, wood, and agriculture held a Fair at which were exhibited the products of their respective departments.

It is the purpose of the metal shop to give the student a general background in some of the different fields of metal-work. These fields include machine work, band and wrought iron work, basic sheet metal work, and basic art metal work.

Woodworking teaches the student to read and interpret simple working drawings so that he may learn to use hand and machine tools utilized in woodworking. The student is also taught to practice rules of health and safety while in the shop and also to plan and follow an orderly procedure.

Agriculture courses include every possible phase of agriculture. Some of the major parts of the courses include a section on the poultry industry, basic woodworking, a study of soil and crops, the study of dairy and other animal enterprises, and also farm management and development. The Agriculture Department had on display a motor completely disassembled with each part labeled. Standing in the center of the room was a Farmall tractor which had been completely overhauled.
